It will be appreciated if you will advise us on this point to permit further action on your application.

Dear Mr. Kemper:

In reference to my application for membership in the Philadelphia Chapter of the Institute, this application was made by me before I realized that the location of membership was under the jurisdiction of the Washington office and it was made at the prompting of my friends in Philadelphia. Naturally it is impossible for me to furnish you with a legal address in Philadelphia as my address is as stated on my application in Raleigh, North Carolina. It will probably be simpler if you return my application in its entirety in order that I may apply through the North Carolina Chapter or if it is proper I can secure recommendations for the North Carolina Chapter and forward them to you to be attached to my present application.

I await your recommendations.

Dear Mr. Bendiner:

Your several communications are received and I will comment separately as follows:

- 1) Letter on behalf of Mr. Herbert Swinburne, with attached professional biography, will be held until his nomination is received, when it will be placed with the nomination for presentation to The Jury of Fellows in due course.
- 2) There were no enclosures with your letter concerning the nomination of Mr. Robert Noble. Since you refer to the enclosures as containing his achievements, I am wondering if you had intended to send the actual, signed nomination form. Will you check your papers and see if you still have the enclosures referred to?
- 3) The invitation to join ^{you} with and Mrs. Bendiner in Philadelphia next Spring is accepted with great alacrity. I'm all for getting better acquainted with sangrias. The one and only time I had one was not under the most pleasant circumstances - i.e., we were taken to a "dive" where we were served, and that rather took my appetite away for repeats at the time. But now I am ready to continue my education.

Wish I could be of more help to you - secretariially speaking - on these nominations. Why don't you get the chapter executive secretary to take over some of the burden, if you haven't already done so. In the New York Chapter, Mrs. Menkel has almost complete handling of their nominations and gets a real swell job done. Anyway, you have my sympathy.

Sincerely,

Secretary to The Jury of Fellows

2. The Mercantile Library received the Medal of the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects in 1954 and the following year an Award of Merit in the National Honor Awards Competition of the Institute.

Lewis Mumford reviewed this building in an article titled "The Skyline - Philadelphia II" in the New Yorker Magazine dated May 26, 1956. Excerpts from this article are:

"Modest tho it is, the Mercantile Library offers an ingenious solution to a series of difficult problems; indeed it turns its embarrassment into riches. The architects, Messrs. Sydney Martin, Harry Stewart and Robert Noble, have deftly converted the cramped lot into a spacious interior whose charm beckons through the panelled glass front to the pedestrian.

"The glass front, which is screened only across the top, by a thin bamboo curtain, reveals the whole library at a glance clear back through the rear windows which give onto a little brick walled garden. It turns the building into an eloquent piece of self-identification that says more plainly than words 'Come in and do what everyone else is doing.'

"The chief means of achieving this openness and spaciousness is not just the glass front itself but the use of the split level plan which gives the whole thing the visual height of one large room. The entrance hall is spacious enough to enable the visitor to take in the alternatives before choosing to go up or down.

"This building identifies itself to perfection as a library, and nothing else, just by being visibly what it is, without any need for eye catching displays but books. Anybody who needs more than what is provided here - light and color and books and comfortable chairs, and a garden with bushes, and even a tree - to tempt him into the library had better be kept out, as a potential nuisance."

Mr. Norman H. Rice, President
Philadelphia Chapter, A.I.A.
2400 Pine Street
Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Rice:

The Jury of Fellows has reported to me the following action it has taken on nominations from your Chapter before it of corporate members who were considered for advancement to Fellowship:

Elected to Fellowship:

Charles E. Peterson Beryl Price Herbert H. Swinburne

Herewith are copies of letters of notification to these new Fellows which are self-explanatory.

The Department of Public Information has asked me to advise you that although a national release announcing all of the new Fellows will be issued, your Chapter is urged to supplement this announcement with a release of its own. This release should describe the new Fellows' accomplishments and, if applicable, the prominent buildings they have designed in your area. Photos of their work and their portraits should be made available to the press.

It is suggested that a member of your Chapter Public Relations Committee take the release personally to your local newspaper editors as well as to the radio and television stations. In doing so, however, it is imperative that the release date, as noted, be strictly observed. (This is necessary to avoid ill feeling on the part of the news media.)

Referred to Meeting of the Jury in 1962:

Robert W. Noble Harold Eugene Wagoner Charles F. Ward, Jr.

Any further material that you wish to submit in connection with these nominations should be received by The Jury of Fellows at The Octagon by January 1, 1962.
