June 27, 1917.

Mr. D. Everett Waid, Treasurer,
American Institute of Architects,

Dear Sir:

I should be pleased to receive information regarding Article 4, under special rules, as passed by the last convention.

Am I to understand that all members of the Institute, seventy years of age or older are held exempt from paying dues, result of this ruling, providing they have been members of the Institute for ten years or more.

I have been a member of the American Institute of Architects since 1889; coming into same from the Western Association of Architects, and have been actively engaged in the practice of architecture since 1876. Am now the senior member of the firm of Osgood and Osgood, in a semi-active capacity. Have passed the age of seventy-two. I am asking the above questions in order to ascertain if I am to become exempt from further dues in the Institute.

Until hearing from you, I beg leave to remain,

Cordially yours,

Dear Mr. Osgood:-

Permit me to acknowledge your letter of June 27th to the Treasurer, Mr. Waid, and to enclose herewith marked copy of the By-laws of the Institute. Under Article IV, Section 1 will be found the provision with regard to retirement.

It would certainly appear that you are eligible therefor, and I suggest that you make application, addressed to the Secretary of the Institute, as indicated in the By-laws. This will come before the Board meeting in September and we will be pleased to advise you of the action taken.

Very truly yours,

Executive Secretary.

Dear Sir:

I herewith acknowledge receipt of yours of July second, and following your suggestion, I herewith enclose application addressed to the secretary of the Institute, asking for exemption of dues.

I would further ask you whether I should pay the current year dues or await the decision of my application.

Thanking you, permit me to remain,

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:

In accordance with Section 1, Article 1V, I respectfully petition the Institute that I become exempt from payment of dues as prescribed in said section.

I have been engaged in the practice of architecture for the past forty-five years, having been a member of the Institute since 1889, coming into same from the Western Association, and I passed my seventy second birthday in March of this year.

Awaiting your action, I beg leave to remain,

My dear Mr. Osgood:

At the September meeting of the Board of Directors, the Secretary presented your letter of July 9 and it was resolved that the dues for 1917 cannot be remitted as they are included in the present Budget; but you will be placed on the retired list effective January 1, 1918 on condition that the dues for 1917 are paid.

As a memorandum, I enclose statement for 1917 dues.

By direction of the Secretary.

Very truly yours,

Executive Secretary.

Dear Mr. Kemper:-

This is to acknowledge your letter of June 16th.
Kindly accept my sincere thanks for the prompt reply.

The architects referred to in my letter of the 14th, are Osgood & Osgood, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and the writer would appreciate any information as to their standing in the profession and whether or not they have successfully completed previous contracts.

The writer is very skeptical about association with other architects and therefore trying to obtain all available information before entering into an association.

Thanking you in advance for any information and assuring you it will be treated strictly confidential,
I am,

Responding to your letter of June 19th, the only Osgood of whom we have record is Mr. S. J. Osgood, of the New Herald Building, Grand Rapids, Mich. He is on the retired list of the Institute, of which he became a member in 1884.

So far as the records at the Octagon go, he is in good standing in the profession in every way.

Dear Mr. Osgood:

According to the records at The Octagon you have never been transferred from the Detroit Chapter to the Grand Rapids Chapter, although you are now living in Grand Rapids.

It may be that the failure to make the transfer rests with this office but we cannot find an indication to that effect. Can you give us any information which will help to straighten out the record?

A letter from the Secretary of the Detroit Chapter, Mr. Arthur K. Hyde, indicates that the records of that Chapter show that you were transferred to Grand Rapids in 1928 - but apparently no entry of the sort exists at The Octagon.

In the interest of good organization, and in the interest of the member himself, the Institute is gratified when members, locating in a new city, ask for a transfer from the old Chapter to the new Chapter having jurisdiction.

We would much appreciate it if you would let us hear from you in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Executive Secretary.

Dear Sir:

Referring to your recent letter directed to my father, Mr. Sidney J. Osgood, submitting to him the suggestion that he be transferred from the Detroit Chapter to the Grand Rapids Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, permit me to advise as follows:

My father is a Fellow and life member of the A.I.A. and has always been a member of the Detroit Chapter, in fact I believe he is a charter member, but in this I may be mistaken. He is the senior member of our firm, is eighty-six years of age and does not desire to make any change in his membership in the A.I.A.

This for your guidance and advice.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Mr. Hyde:

We are just in receipt of your letter of February 20th, with regard to the status of certain members of the Detroit Chapter, and wish to respond thereto, as follows:

Harry T. Smith was dropped from membership in the Institute and the Detroit Chapter, effective September 1, 1930.

Albert G. Wood. We have written to Mr. Wood, as is our custom, as per the attached copy of letter. However, in view of the Chapter's recommendation that his membership be discontinued, the matter will be brought before the Executive Committee for action, unless we hear from you further.

Homer W. Harper. It is noted that the Chapter recommends the discontinuance of Mr. Harper's membership, and this will be brought up at the coming meeting of the Executive Committee for action.

Sidney J. Osgood. We are glad to know that the Chapter has followed the example of the Institute and has placed this member on its retired list. It is presumed that you have notified him of the action taken, and that no further action by this office is required.

John T. Ferris. The matter of his transfer to the New York Chapter is being held in abeyance, as requested.

John G. Drainie. It is noted that the Chapter wishes more time for the consideration of this case, and we shall be glad to withhold any action until we hear further from you.

You will be advised of the action taken with regard to Messrs. Wood and Harper by the Executive Committee as soon after the meeting as possible.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Arthur K. Hyde, Secretary,
Detroit Chapter, A.I.A.,

CRYSTAL LAKE SAFE HELD $1,800 CASH

Sept. 4.—Thieves who entered and robbed the office of Crystal Lake Development on the east shore of the lake were armed with $1,800 in cash. Through a side window, the thieves wheeled the safe from the rear of another building and blew it to pieces. A clerk in a nearby hotel heard a blast between 10 and 11 o'clock. Officer Hansen was investigating, but could report no progress. Careful examination revealed no fingerprints and several other clues on which the sheriff said. Money taken was all cash, some of the holiday business. The clerk were left. Owner of the comgers were "calm and in good spirits" despite their agonizing wait. The prolonged beating and grinding suffered by the Dixie caused a leak in one of its fuel tanks. It also was making water in its double bottom. It was not in immediate danger, however, according to messages of Capt. Sundstrom. Latest reports indicated the storm was moving westward away from the vicinity of the Dixie. The Dixie was en route from New Orleans to New York and its passengers were from all parts of the country.

Sidney J. Osgood Was Important Factor in Building Grand Rapids.

Sidney J. Osgood, veteran architect, who observed his ninetieth birthday anniversary, March 26, who came to Grand Rapids when it had a population of about 25,000 and who was an important factor in building this city, died in Battle Creek sanitarium Tuesday evening after a long illness. He was the senior member of the architectural firm of Osgood & Osgood. He was born March 26, 1845, at Ellsworth, Me. His father, Joseph Osgood, was an architect and builder and New England is dotted with the churches he designed. Osgood attended the town school and then for four years was before the mast on a sailing vessel commanded by his uncle. He was twice around Cape Horn and visited many seas. Returning to shore life, he worked with his father and studied in Boston, coming to Grand Rapids (Continued on Page 2, Column 7.)

arking no traffic permitted while the parade is in process of formation and dispersing. In addition, Capt. Spoelstra announced, many men have been assigned to duty along Monroe-av. from the reviewing stand to Michigan-st.

Two more bands have been included in the parade lineup with the return to the city of M. R. Petrilli, band leader at Central High school, and Merwyn Mitchell, leader at Ottawa Hills. Mr. Petrilli has called a rehearsal for the Central band for 10 o'clock Thursday morning and another for 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the school. The boys who played in Central band last year even though not in school this year, are asked to attend these rehearsals. The Ottawa band will rehearse at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at the school.

Other Bands to Play.

Other bands taking part are the South High band, Glenn B. Lytton, director, which will lead the huge Garfield park division; Davis Tech, George D. Davis, director, which will rehearse Thursday at 6:30 at the school. Theodore L. Fryogle and his Union band will be in the lineup ahead of a west side pageant group. This band has already rehearsed and is ready. The J. and J. Music Shop band, Jay VanDusen, director, has prepared itself also for the parade. It will be in front of the Wilcox park delegation. The Boy Scout Drum and Bugle corps, Leon Knapp, director, and the Police Drum and Bugle corps, A. M. Jensen, director, is also ready for leading the parade down Monroe-av.

While the parade feature of the four-program pageant was being finished up Wednesday Miss Noreen Anson, in charge of the Friday night celebration at Houseman field, was putting finishing touches to this grand rally and roundup. Rehearsals were being held Wednesday and Thursday. The stages are being placed in position now and the lights are being put in place. All of the acts to show in this feature have been completed.

Monroe-av. to Be Smooth for Pageant

Underground work now in progress in Monroe-av. will be completed in approximately seven working days, it was announced by Peter A. Kammeraad, public service director, following a conference with the contractors, McDermott & Son.

McDermott & Son has agreed, however, to have most of the roadway ready for the mammoth playground safety pageant parade to be presented by The Grand Rapids Press, recreation department and the Safety council Friday morning. Some barriers will remain in the block between Ionia-av. and Ottawa-av., but there will remain a 42-foot lane for the parade to use.

To eliminate congestion on the main thoroughfare, the municipal traffic commission Tuesday afternoon ordered that all automobile parking will be banned temporarily on the south side of Louis-st., and on the east side of Division-av., from Monroe-av. to Fountain-st. This will leave a wider traffic lane for vehicles using the streets to avoid the Monroe-av. congestion.

Roadway resurfacing work on Monroe-av. by the state highway department will not be started until after the G. A. R. has met here next week, it was reported by Peter A. Kammeraad, service director.

Another Action In Vosper Case

Ionia, Sept. 4.—Another action had been added Wednesday to the more than eight already pending in three courts here concerning the estate of Mrs. Lucia Vosper, 83, well-to-do Ionia widow and that no payment for loan of money nor has any been made. This matter was handled in the regular course of business as a private transaction with Ethiopia, but without consultation with any other government." He said Ethiopia was to have received royalties on all commercial petroleum produced under the agreement.

The Standard Vacuum company is a foreign subsidiary jointly owned by the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. and the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. The Standard-Vacuum in turn operates the African Exploration & Development Co., which obtained the concession.

The announcement of the withdrawal of the Standard Vacuum Oil Co. from the Ethiopian oil concession was greeted with feelings ranging from relief that a dangerous situation had been eased to the belief in Italy that "there had been no change" as the League of Nations council members gathered to discuss the Italo-Ethiopian impasse.

The British press saw some relief to the league outlook in the new development and French officials expressed their pleasure and said the new move cleared the atmosphere.

In Italy the cancellation had been regarded as inevitable owing to what was considered the unfavorable reaction the deal produced throughout the world. The American move was regarded by Italian officials as not having changed the situation at all, since Italy had refused to recognize the validity of the concession.

Surprise Confab.

Meanwhile a surprise meeting of representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy was called, prior to the scheduled council meeting, to examine the Italo-Ethiopian situation from a league standpoint.

British cabinet ministers were hurrying to London to be ready for swift action if warranted by developments in Geneva. The English press and officialdom were frankly pessimistic regarding a peaceful solution.

Italy, however, was confident of victory in the council session, regarding the British position as weakened by the Rickett oil deal, and feeling that as a result Great Britain probably would abandon efforts to impose sanctions in the event of an east African war.

Washington political observers said they regarded the move as having erased all chance of entangling the United States in the dispute.

Addis Ababa, Sept. 4.—(P)—The Ethiopian government appeared nonplussed Wednesday when informed that the Standard-Vacuum Oil Co. had withdrawn from its Ethiopian concessions on representations by the state department of the United States. They declined immediate comment.

Observers here assumed that the United States government wished to avoid being drawn into the already acutely delicate political situation which has arisen between this nation and Italy and that Washington wishes to avoid compromising the American relationship with Italy.

Emperor Haile Selassie was not immediately informed of the cancellation.

ids in 1876 to practice his profession.

Become Leader.

His practical knowledge and experience, sound judgment and artistic sense soon gave him recognition as a leader. He designed the Widdcomb building, and upon its completion in 1885 he removed his offices from the Porter building.

The Kortlander and the Botsford buildings were designed by him and the plans he submitted for the Kent county courthouse, built in 1888, were adopted from a competitive field of 25 offered.

His residential work included the Edwin F. Uhl and the George H. Long residences and in the industrial class the Widdcomb Furniture Co. factory. Outside of Grand Rapids he built the Muskegon, Mason and Allegan county courthouses and many churches.

In 1902 he was joined by his son, S. Eugene Osgood, and two years later made him a partner, the firm name being Osgood & Osgood. In collaboration with his son he designed the Grand Rapids Savings Bank building, Elks temple, Commercial Savings Bank building, Keeler Exposition building, the Wolverine, Keeler and Grand Rapids Brass factories, the Kindel Bed Co. factory and others.

Designed Masonic Temple.

The Masonic temple is of their work and they also designed Masonic temples in Manistee, Muskegon, Battle Creek, Charlotte, Ypsilanti, St. Johns, Holland, South Bend and Canton and the Scottish Rite temple at Hamilton, Ont. So widely were they known as Masonic builders that S. Eugene Osgood was appointed consulting architect for the George Washington Masonic National Memorial in Washington. Other homes for the Masons were built in Rochester, N. Y., Providence, R. I., Bay City and Saginaw and the firm was consulting architect for the Masonic temple in Cincinnati.

Osgood continued his offices in the Widdcomb building until the erection of the Herald building, which he designed. He later removed to the Monument Square building.

Life Member of Shrine.

He was a life member of the American Institute of Architects, which he joined in 1884. His fraternal affiliations were Masonic, with membership in York lodge, DeMolay commandery and DeWitt Clinton consistory. He was a life member of the Shrine.

He was one of the early members of the Peninsular club but dropped out with advancing years. He belonged to the Masonic Country club. His church connections were with Park Congregational.

Survivors, besides the son, are two daughters, Mrs. William N. Corl and Fannie E. Osgood of Grand Rapids and a granddaughter, Mrs. Russell Thomas Woodburne of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Osgood died in 1933. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Friday at the home, 557 Rosewood-av., S. E., Rev. Edward Archibald Thompson officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.
