Dear Mr. Peale:-

Permit me to acknowledge with regret your letter of November 30 tendering your resignation as a Member of The American Institute of Architects.

The resignation, to become effective, must come through the Executive Committee of the Washington, D. C. Chapter. See excerpt from the Institute By-laws attached. Upon receipt of the necessary data from the Chapter the resignation will be placed on the schedule of the March Executive Committee meeting, to become effective as of December 31, 1926.

With regard to your check of $2.50, Institute Counsel has ruled that action of the last Convention increasing dues to $25.00 cannot become effective until January 1, 1927. We therefore return your check herewith. Those who have paid the increase will have it credited to their 1927 accounts.

Very truly yours,

Executive Secretary.

Mr. R. C. Kemper, Executive Secretary,
The American Institute of Architects,
The Octagon, 18th Street & New York Ave.,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Kemper:

I enclose herewith the resignation of Mr. Harry Peale, from the American Institute of Architects. Mr. Peale submitted this resignation prior to January 1, 1927, but the Executive Committee of the Chapter has not heretofore taken any action thereon. The Committee, at its meeting today directed me to forward the resignation for action by the Directors of the Institute with the recommendation that it be accepted, effective as of January 1, 1927. Mr. Peale had paid his Chapter dues up to that date and was in good standing at the time. Since he is in no way responsible for the delay in acting on his resignation, the Executive Committee feels that he should not be considered a member of either the Chapter or the Institute since the above date.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary.
