Dear Mr. Perkins:

A response to yours of January 18 has been delayed by the January Board meeting.

I have written to Mr. Shelse, Chief of the Division of Publications in the Geological Survey, as per the enclosed copy of letter, and I believe you will get the data desired either from the Geological Survey or from the Agricultural Department.

In the meantime, it might be worth while to address communications to the Commissioners of Agriculture of Secretaries of State in the States mentioned.

If satisfactory results do not come to hand in due course, please let me know.

Very truly yours,

Executive Secretary

FEDERICK WAINWRIGHT PERKINS
CHICAGO.

March 11th, 1918.

My dear Mr. Kemper;-

I have your favor of the 6th, and am sending to Chicago for such papers as I think I shall need in order to make the report to the convention.

Inasmuch as I have not heard from the Board since my last report to them, I am rather in a quandary and at a loss to know how to make a report on the latest activities, covering the proposed changes in the amended By-Laws of the Institute. It would seem that, if this were to be made part of the report, it should have been brought to the attention of the members of my committee: that it is now too late to do so and place it before Institute Members sufficiently in advance of the convention, and that no mention had, therefore, best be made.

Unless I hear from you, promptly, to the contrary I shall confine my report to the final completion and publication of the Constitution and By-Laws authorized at the last convention and to the publication of the Standard Documents for the use of Chapters.

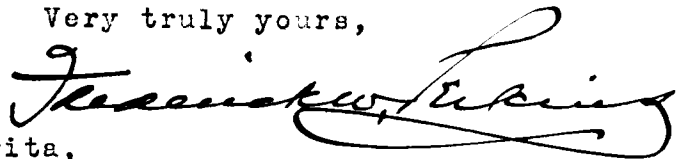

A Shortly before leaving Chicago I received, thanks to your kindness, a letter from the Bureau Of Soils - Dept. of Agriculture-- enclosing a list of maps available for Georgia and this state. I replied on Feb. 19th, (to the chief clerk, I believe) giving a list of maps wanted and, as the list was greater than is furnished free to any one person, enclosing my check for the total amount fixed by the listed prices.

I asked to have them sent to me here and, as nothing has yet come and I have immediate need of them, I am again going to trouble you with the request that you call the bureau and see if they can not be sent on immediately. I shall greatly appreciate anything you can do to expedite the delivery.

There is much talk here of the new terminals which the Government has in contemplation for Charleston and I am beginning to wonder if such a development may not provide a use for our recent contract form, with my name inserted of course.

Seriously, I am most charmed with this place and, if such a project is carried out, very desirous to know how to inspire a call for the place. If you can give me any information regarding the status of the project and the most favorable way to get after the commission, I shall be still further obliged to you.

Very truly yours,

Villa Margherita,

Dear Mr. Perkins:-

A response to your letter of March 11th has been delayed by my absence in Philadelphia in connection with Convention arrangements.

The various proposed amendments to the Institute By-laws were presented by Mr. Parker after a conference here with Mr. Runk and Mr. Fenner. I believe Mr. Parker had letters from you on the subject which were used, but no formal communication in the nature of a report from the Committee on Chapters was submitted at the Board meeting.

The proposed changes were sent out in a notice to Institute members on February 25th, copy of which is enclosed herewith.

Several additional amendments have come in under the procedure provided in the By-laws and these will be distributed next week.

It would seem to me that your suggestion as to the nature of the final report for the year will fully meet the situation, but you of course are the best judge of this.

I will endeavor to get some action from the Bureau of Soils on the data desired.

In connection with the new terminals at Charleston, I suggest that you communicate with Mr. H. J. Burt, Engineering Department, Cantonment Division, 6th and B. Streets, S. W. Washington, D. C. It is my understanding that these terminals are being handled by the Cantonment Division,

Doubtless you have heard of Mr. Fenner's appointment on Mr. Eidlitz' Industrial Housing Division in the Department of Labor. This is indeed gratifying. If I can find out anything further concerning the Charleston terminals within the next day or two I will advise you fully.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Hammond:

For a number of years Mr. Frederick W. Perkins was an active member of the Chicago Chapter, and was Chairman of the Institute Committee which revised the By-laws and did some other good work in 1916.

He later transferred to the Boston Chapter, and for the past year or two has been in Paris.

He is a Fellow of the Institute.

We have been sending to him statements for dues but he does not respond. He is indebted for $75.00, for the years 1925, 1926, and 1927.

Under the Board resolution he should be dropped as of March 1st - from the Institute and the Boston Chapter, to which he is now assigned.

It seems a pity to take this action, especially as Mr. Perkins is abroad. Could you give me a word? Has he any old friends in the Chicago Chapter to whom I might write.

It is hard to believe that he wishes to lose his membership in this way, but he has made no acknowledgment to communications sent to him at the Paris address which we have (care of Morgan, Harjes & Co., Paris.)

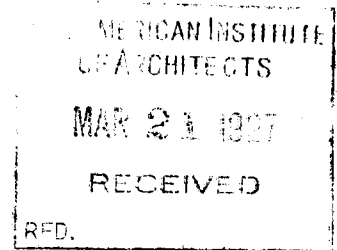

Sincerely yours,

Executive Secretary.

Dear Mr. Kemper:

I have copies of your letters of March 12 to Mr. Hammond Emerson and to Mr. Allen in regard to Mr. Alexander Morton, who has been dropped for non-payment of Institute dues. The Boston Chapter will, I believe, concur with you in the action taken by the Board of Directors of the Institute.

With reference to Mr. Frederick W. Perkins, he was for two or three years a regular attendant at our meetings, and for the past year or so, has been abroad. I understand he has paid all his Chapter dues, and perhaps he is under some misconception regarding his Institute dues. We should be exceedingly sorry to have Mr. Perkins sever his connection with the Boston Chapter and with the Institute. It seems proper, as he has been abroad for some time, to give him a leave of absence without dues. I know the Boston Chapter has a provision for this very thing, and we should be glad to recommend that the Institute do the same, if that would be of any help to you. In regard to his address, we have no other than the one you mention in Paris.

Kindly let me know if any action of the Boston Chapter along the lines indicated would be advisable.

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Kemper:

The copy of your letter to Mr. O. Herrick Hammond, dated Mar. 12, 1927, has just been received by me here and I am amazed at the declarations made therein with reference to unpaid dues.

Had any statements of indebtedness reached me, checks in payment thereof would have been sent with reasonable promptness considering my movements abroad.

I have a distinct recollection of a payment or payments of dues sent to the A. I. A. since I have been in Europe. I can state with certainty that notice of 1927 dues has never reached me and it is safe to assume that no notices for 1925 and 1926 came, as an examination of check books which I have with me, covering payments in United States since the late Autumn of 1924 show the usual payments to all clubs and societies except the A.I.A. and including the Boston Society of Architects - its Chapter.

Inasmuch as statements from other clubs and societies, some annual and others semi-annual, have reached me regularly, it seems fair to assume that your executive office has failed to send statements to me.

It would be altogether too improbable a coincidence to have three A. I. A. statements in three years the only ones lost in the mails.

Also, if a reasonably prompt return from the first was not received is it not your custom to send a duplicate and after an undue lapse of time to write the supposed delinquent direct instead of making such statements as are contained in your letter and broadcasting them?

I can only conclude that the fault lies in the executive office and I deeply resent your action in writing as you did to Messrs. Hammon, Bergstrom and Ripley.

My dear Mr. Kemper:

I received this morning a letter from Mr. Frederick W. Perkins enclosing a copy of his letter to you under date of March 31st. May I hasten to say that the officers of the Boston Chapter were under the impression that you had the correct foreign address of Mr. Perkins, which he states in his letter is c/o Morgan & Cie, 14 Place Vendome, Paris. If we have been remiss in any way in not sending you the information we had in regard to Mr. Perkin's address, I hasten to express our regret. The incident is unfortunate, and I trust that Mr. Perkins will be generous enough not to harbor resentment against us on account of it. I have written him as nicely as I could in regard to the matter.

Dear Mr. Perkins:

I was sorry to get your letter of March 31st.

Your indebtedness to the Institute was of more than two years standing. During this entire period monthly statements were mailed to you at Upton Farms, Nokomis, Illinois, and more recently to your Paris address. Among these was a formal letter transmitting the resolution of the Board with regard to those on the delinquent list. We received no replies, and by direction of the Board your Institute and Chapter membership should have been discontinued for non-payment of dues, effective March 1, 1927.

Knowing of the many services which you rendered the Institute, and feeling that the Institute would be a great loser if the resolution were applied, I took the liberty of writing several personal notes in the hope of locating you - in the meantime assuming responsibility for disregarding the resolution of the Board.

My letter to Mr. Hammond was more personal than otherwise, in the hope of finding someone in Chicago who might act for you until your return. I also wrote to Mr. Ripley, President of the Boston Chapter, with the same intent. Both of these men understood fully that the trouble was in locating you.

Receipt of your remittance of $75.00, in payment of Institute dues for the years 1925, 1926, and 1927, in full, is acknowledged.

I have written to Mr. Hammond and Mr. Ripley as per enclosed copies of letters.

This member or former member is Frederick Wainwright Perkins who was for a number of years a prominent architect in Chicago and who is now deceased I believe.
