Dear Mr. Scarff:

Mr. Kemper writes us that Mr. Edward H. Glidden, of Baltimore, a member of the Institute, has died. This is the first news we have had of his death.

The JOURNAL wishes to publish a fitting editorial tribute to Mr. Glidden, and we wonder whether we may call upon you to assist us in securing the necessary information.

Be assured that we will appreciate any service you can extend us.

Very truly yours,

Upon my return to Baltimore after an absence of two weeks, I found your letter of December 1st., regarding the death of Mr. Glidden. I am today sending your letter to Mr. Theo. Wells Pietsch as perhaps the member of the Chapter who can best comply with your request.

If you do not obtain the desired information, kindly let me hear further.

My dear Mr. Upjohn:

Herewith I am returning to you the photograph of Mr. Edward H. Glidden, which you requested. By a singular coincidence, Mr. Scarif of the Baltimore Chapter sent me a copy of the obituary notice which you sent me a few days later; he informed me that you had written it.

This will appear in the next issue of the JOURNAL.

By the way, we were recently informed of the death of Mr. George E. Karney, F. A. I. A., of the New York Chapter. The Chapter advised me it has no record of an obituary notice for him. I wonder whether you can help us with this. It is certainly a grave problem to be up-to-date on the vital statistics of the Institute.

You will be sorry to learn, if you have not already heard, that Mr. C. H. Whitaker has been critically ill with typhoid fever, although he is a present on the road to recovery. He has been in a local hospital for the past three weeks.

Faithfully yours,

Editorial Department
