Dear Mrs. Goodwillie:

October 7,

Permit me to express my sympathy for you in your bereavement.

I counted Frank Goodwillie as a good friend of mine, one whom I came to know particularly during our war work together. He was one of the most quiet and modest of men but was admired greatly by his fellow architects who had the privilege of knowing him. I know that I am only one of many members of the American Institute of Architects who would wish to pay tribute to the memory of your husband.

Faithfully yours,

W
