Mr. Dudley McGrath,
175 Fifth Ave.,
New York, N. Y.

My dear Sir:

We have received a letter from the Secretary of the Brooklyn Chapter announcing that your resignation from that Chapter had been accepted. Please be kind enough to advise us if you are taking this action because you are going to affiliate with some other chapter. It is assumed that you are aware of the fact that the by-laws prescribe that resignation from the chapter carries with it resignation from the Institute. We would indeed regret to lose you as a member of the Institute, and hope to learn that you are affiliated with some other chapter. Please advise me as to this.

Very truly yours,

Acting Executive Secretary.

Mr. C. H. Whitaker,

The Octagon, Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:-

I have your very kind favor of June 9th regarding my resignation from the Brooklyn Chapter.

I beg to advise you that I am well aware that a resignation from a Chapter carries with it resignation from the Institute unless one has affiliated oneself with some other Chapter. Consequently I applied for admission ^{to} and was elected an Institute Member of the New York Chapter before writing my resignation to the Brooklyn Chapter.

Will you be kind enough to advise me at your convenience, whether or not you wish to use the matter on Contracts which I mailed you for the Journal. If you do use it I hope you will favor me with at least an extra copy of the publication.

Yours very truly,

Dudley McGrath

My dear Mr. McGrath:

Permit me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of June 10, addressed to Mr. Whitaker, who is now out of the city.

Thank you for the information regarding your affiliation with the New York Chapter.

Concerning the use of the matter on contracts in the Journal, I shall bring your inquiry to the attention of Mr. Whitaker just as soon as he returns. No doubt he will write to you.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Dudley McGrath,

DUDLEY MC GRATH - Elected to the Institute in 1908.

DEC 13 1922

Died in New York City, October 1, 1922.

Dudley Mc Grath, a member of the New York Chapter since 1914, died in the City of New York after a brief illness on October 1st.

He was the son of the late Thomas H. and Maria A. Bergen Mc Grath, and received his early education in the public schools of Brooklyn; the Polytechnic Institute, and later at Columbia University. He entered the office of J. B. Snook & Son immediately after leaving college in 1893, serving with them as assistant engineer, and later as chief of their construction department, until 1902. He then began the practice of Architecture as a member of the firm of Davis, Mc Grath & Shepard, which later became the present firm of Davis, Mc Grath & Kiessling. For a number of years he delivered a course of lectures on the subject of "Building Contracts" to the architectural students of Pratt Institute.

For many years Mr. Mc Grath was an active member of the Brooklyn Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, serving on the Board of Directors and as Secretary of the Chapter from 1911-1913, after which he transferred to the New York Chapter. He was elected to the Institute in 1908. For a long period he represented the Brooklyn and later the New York Chapter as a member of the Joint Committee on City Departments and rendered valuable service in the effort to secure a better Building Code for the City.

His natural optimism endeared him to his co-workers and his considerate attitude towards others in the practice of his profession make his loss keenly felt by his associates and his many friends within and outside the profession of architecture.

At the regular meeting of the New York Chapter American Institute of Architects, held on November 17th, it was:

RESOLVED: That we place in full upon the minutes of this meeting the record of the professional life of Dudley Mc Grath which has just been read to us; that the Secretary of the Chapter transmit to his family and associates a copy of this record, and the further expression of our sense of sorrow at his untimely death and sincere sympathy with them in their great loss;

Which resolution was duly adopted by an unanimous rising vote of the members.
