My dear Miss Gervais:

I am writing you for some information: It seems that sometime ago a properly endorsed and fortified application for advancement to Fellowship was submitted to the Octagon in the name of:

Robert Charles Dean
Park Square Building
Boston, Massachusetts

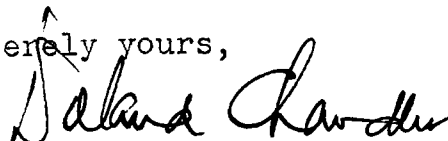

and either never arrived in Washington or was waylaid in some corner, there waiting for discovery. In other words Mr. Dean's application, so his proposers feel, has been in long enough to warrant some kind of acknowledgement. Can you look into this plight and report back to me. It certainly seems, knowing your thoroughness, that the application never reached 1741, but if it did and got to the bottom of some pile perhaps you can unearth it, and start it on its way. At any rate if there's no sign of it, please let me know and the process will be begun anew from here. Again, if the application is not in proper order, you might send to me and I will take it up with the proposers.

Robert Dean is a partner of Perry, Shaw and Hepburn of this town.

I trust the summer has not been too incandescent for you in the Capital and that you could get away for a vacation. We've had pretty trying temperatures here, not much relieved by our lifesaver East wind, - at least not nearly enough; mugginess has <sup>Dean</sup>our worst annoyance, capricious labor conditions, which threaten what decent jobs we have, - and the hot winds blowing up from the political bivouacs don't promise much serenity.

All my best,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Chandler:

I hasten to write in the matter of the nomination of Mr. Robert Charles Dean, of Boston, for advancement to Fellowship.

This nomination was received from Mr. Harold B. Willis, F.A.I.A., with his letter of April 2, 1951. On April 4, 1951, a letter of acknowledgment was sent to Mr. Willis, copy of which is attached.

Mr. Dean's name was before The Jury of Fellows at its 1952 meeting and the Jury directed that it be held over, without prejudice, for submission to that Jury at its 1953 meeting - which, of course, will be done.

Am awfully sorry that advice of the formal filing of the nomination did not reach the nominators. It may be that my letter was lost in transit.

Yours sincerely,

Secretary to

My dear Miss Gervais:

Would you let me know if all letters from the nominators and endorsers of Robert Charles Dean of Boston for advancement to Fellowship are in hand? I note that you have received the communications from me, and the formal nomination. I did receive your letter of April 4.

The rumor is about that letters were not sent you by other people who were endorsing him.

Dear Sirs:

Mr. Robert C. Dean has been nominated for admission to Fellowship in the American Institute of Architects. I would like to express to you my opinion of his fitness to receive this honor.

As a trusted employee of ours for many years, his outstanding abilities as a designer, together with his increasing grasp of the fundamentals of the practice of architecture have resulted, five years ago, in his admission to partnership. He has the enquiring mind that is not content to dismiss an unfamiliar subject, but must set about to master it, and perhaps it is this quality as much as his flexibility in design that has made him such a valuable addition to our group.

In the increasing complexities of architectural practice, Bob has been able to widen the scope of his activities and interests to keep pace with these growing responsibilities and seems to welcome them as a challenge.

I hope that I may have done a little to aid you in your task.

Sincerely yours,

Thomas Mott Shaw

Dear Sirs:

Robert C. Dean has been a partner for five years, having previously been an associate with growing responsibilities for twenty years. At forty-nine he fulfills admirably our hope and plan for firm continuity.

Perhaps the most unusual quality that has contributed to his training is his recognition of his unpreparedness in fields which he knows he should control, and one after the other to concentrate on them and to apprentice himself under himself as master. Design has been his first pre-occupation. To design he must draw and render. Construction, office management and all matters of policy also have been the object of his intensive study. In his military life he has risen to Brigadier General by the application of the same principles.

His design is progressive in what I believe to be its only realistic sense. It is based on the anatomy of each problem and a clean workable simplicity expressed in mass of such interest as to justify itself. Economy, therefore, has played a controlling part; yet when the occasion demands his vocabulary is adequate.

I hope that Robert Dean may be admitted to the group of Fellows. He is an architect.

sincerely,

Dear Sir:

I take pleasure in writing to you in behalf of the application for Fellowship of Mr. Robert C. Dean.

Bob Dean I have known for the past thirty years. He came to me first as a student at M.I.T. After graduation he acted as instructor and later went abroad on a scholarship for travel. His experience since then has been largely with the Firm of Perry, Shaw and Hepburn interrupted by the Second World War.

His qualities are those of a serious, conscientious and devotedly loyal individual. He meets every problem carefully and thoroughly, never hesitating to sacrifice himself for the good of the profession or for the particular purpose before him. He is valued in the New England community both for his ability as an architect and as a representative citizen. He has fulfilled every responsibility that he has undertaken with a capacity and conscience that have grown with his increasing maturity. Beyond all this he is a most likable and helpful person.

I have been in close acquaintance with him in all his activities with the exception of the army and have no hesitation in recommending him heartily to your favorable consideration for advancement to Fellowship.

Sincerely yours,

William Emerson

Dear Sirs:

I am informed that Mr. Robert C. Dean, of Perry, Shaw and Hepburn, Kehoe and Dean, Boston, has been proposed for Fellowship in the American Institute of Architects.

His firm has designed two large buildings, for which we are consulting architects, now under construction at Harvard University. During the preparation of the plans and specifications, I have worked closely with Mr. Dean, and was greatly impressed by his logical approach to two very complicated and unusual problems of planning; and his skill in design.

I strongly recommend his favorable consideration for advancement.

It is a pleasure to write in support of the Boston Chapter's nomination of Robert C. Dean's advancement to Fellowship in the Institute.

I have been personally acquainted with Bob for the past twenty-eight years. I was in my last year at Tech. when he entered as a freshman and I spent considerable time with him advising him on his architectural course.

He has been active in the Society, has a distinguished war record and is helping carrying on the good work as a partner in the firm of Perry, Shaw and Hepburn in Boston.

I believe he is really deserving of the honor of Fellowship and I hope the Jury of Fellows concur.

In a recent letter from the Jury of Fellows, Mr. Albert Simons has asked me to submit four photographs of my work as indicated in his letter. These photographs are to be in accordance with instructions for submission of exhibits by candidates for Fellowships.

We are unable to decide from the instructions whether 4 photographs are to be mounted on one mount 1 meter square or whether there may be 4 mounts, 1 meter square each - each bearing one photograph 1 meter square and the title. We would prefer the latter interpretation if there is a choice.

We await your reply before enlarging the 4 selected photographs.

31 December 1976

Re: 1976 Dues; Designation.

The American Institute of Architects
1735 New York Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20006

Attention of Mr. Louis de Moll, FAIA, President

Ladies and Gentlemen:

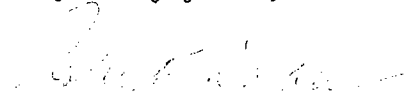

Perry, Dean, Stahl and Rogers, Inc., a recent joining of two established Boston architectural firms, wishes to conclude a lengthy dialogue regarding the 1976 dues of Perry Dean Partners, Inc. We hereby acknowledge our debt in the amount of $3,804.17 (computation enclosed) and assure the Institute that it will be paid as soon as possible.

However, we remain dismayed by the unresolved inequities of the present dues system: the amount of the dues itself, the computation of supplemental dues, the payment procedures and the policy which compels entire firms to belong even if only a few of their architect-owners wish to be active A.I.A. members. We have striven to redress these matters from within the Institute, to no avail. Accordingly, the Board of Directors of Perry, Dean, Stahl and Rogers, Inc. has voted to resign from the American Institute of Architects, effective 31 December 1976.

We take this action with considerable regret and in full awareness of both the role of the Institute in our profession and our long-standing relationship with the A.I. A. As you may be aware, our predecessors, Stahl Associates and the present firm which began in 1923 as Perry Shaw and Hepburn, have a history of sixty-three years continuous membership in the A.I.A. We currently count one Emeritus Member, two Fellows and seven other members among our staff of forty-six and proudly display numerous awards and citations received from the Institute. We trust that this serves to underscore the gravity of our concerns.

Please be advised that several of our present members may seek to maintain their A.I.A. memberships as individuals. We hope that some suitable accommodation of the Institute's policies, our corporate position and their professional goals may be achieved.

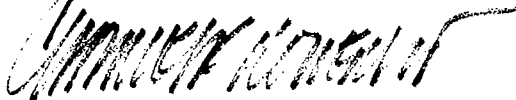

Very truly yours,

Gentlemen:

It is with deep regret that we have received your letter dated December 31 in which you advise that your firm has voted to resign from the Institute.

The Bylaws of the Institute provide that members may resign if in good standing as far as AIA and local dues are concerned. Since the following are in arrears for 1976 AIA supplemental dues and BSA supplemental dues, their memberships are hereby terminated for nonpayment of these dues:

Andrew J. Dean
Charles F. Rogers
Conover Fitch, Jr.

Steven M. Foote
Peter A. Ringenbach
Paul J. Trapani

The resignations of the following are accepted in good standing:

Robert C. Dean

Frederick A. Stahl
Donald J. Tellalian

As much as we would like some of you to continue your membership, under the present Bylaws it would not be possible to do so without paying supplemental dues, except for Mr. Robert C. Dean who was Member Emeritus and exempted from all dues payments.

Your fine contributions to the Institute and to the profession are surpassed by few. We certainly hope that the day will soon come when you find our dues structure more palatable and that you will rejoin. No doubt you are aware that the question will

Dear Mr. Dean:

This is in response to your letter of March 23.

We, too, had some doubts as to whether the letter of resignation of the members of the Perry Dean Partners firm was to include every member who signed it, including you, regardless of their dues status.

Your resignation was accepted, as indicated in the letter, "in good standing." However, in view of your inquiry on the matter, we trust that you wish to continue and so are retracting that action in your case (as in Mr. Tellalian's case, who also wishes to continue).

Your membership is restored as "FAIA Emeritus" and we request your chapter and state organization to do likewise.
