THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS

THE STANDARDS OF PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

with Interpretations

The official text of A.I.A. Document J-330 is in bold and roman. The interpretations are in italics.

The Following Provisions of the By-Laws of The Institute form the basis for all disciplinary actions taken under the Standards of Professional Practice:

Chapter 14, Article 1, Section 1 (c)

Any deviation by a corporate member from any of the Standards of Professional Practice of The Institute or from any of the rules of the Board supplemental thereto, or any action by him that is detrimental to the best interests of the profession and The Institute shall be deemed to be unprofessional conduct on his part, and ipso facto he shall be subject to discipline by The Institute.

I OBLIGATIONS OF GOOD PRACTICE

The profession of architecture calls for men of the highest integrity, judgment, business capacity, and artistic and technical ability. An Architect's honesty of purpose must be above suspicion; he acts as professional adviser to his client and his advice must be unprejudiced; he is charged with the exercise of judicial functions as between client and contractors and must act with entire impartiality; he has moral responsibilities to his professional associates and subordinates; he is engaged in a profession which carries with it grave responsibility to the public. These duties and responsibilities cannot be properly discharged unless his motives, conduct and ability are such to command respect and confidence.

Planning, technical guidance, advice and counsel constitute the service of the profession. Given in verbal, written or graphic form, they are rendered in order that buildings with their equipment and the areas about them, in addition to being well suited to their purposes, well planned for health, safety, efficient operation and economical maintenance, and soundly constructed of materials and by methods most appropriate and economical for their particular uses, shall also have beauty and distinction.

In order to promote the highest standards of conduct in the practice of architecture, The American Institute of Architects has formulated the following basic principles for the guidance of the profession:

A An Architect's relation to his client depends upon good faith. Before undertaking any commission he should explain the exact nature and extent of his services, and of his compensation therefor. Where a fixed limit of cost is established in advance of design, the Architect must be given freedom in determining the character of design and construction needed to meet as nearly as feasible the cost limit established but should not be understood to guarantee the final cost which will be determined not only by the Architect's solution of the owner's fixed requirements but by the fluctuating conditions of the competitive construction market.

It is an important duty of the Architect to keep the owner informed, during the progress of the work, as to the probable cost of construction involved.

B An Architect should consider the needs and stipulations of his client and the effect of his work upon the life and well being of the public.

C An Architect may offer his services for anyone on the generally accepted basis of commission, fee, salary or royalty, as Architect, consultant, adviser, or assistant, provided that he rigidly maintains his professional integrity.

Members may practice as employees of corporations, but they must be careful in all instances to see that their own actions are in accordance with the ethical standards of The Institute. (Board, March, 1956.)

D An Architect should not make use of services offered by manufacturers, suppliers of building materials, appliances and equipment, or contractors, which may be accompanied by an obligation detrimental to the best interest of the client.

E An Architect's drawings, specifications and other documents should be complete, definite and clear concerning his intentions, the scope of the contractor's work, the materials and methods of construction to be used therefor, and the conditions under which the construction work is to be completed and paid for.

F An Architect should guard equally the interests of the contractor as well as those of the client. The Architect will condemn workmanship and materials which are not in conformity with the contract documents, but it is also his duty to give every reasonable aid toward a complete understanding of those documents so that mistakes may be avoided. He will not call upon a contractor to make good omissions and errors in the contract documents.

G An Architect in his investments and in his business relations outside of his profession must be free from financial or personal interests which tend to weaken or discredit his standing as an unprejudiced and honest adviser, free to act in his client's best interests.

An Architect should not permit the use of any statement in product advertising which could be construed as representing that he endorses a product or method. (Board, November, 1956.)

H An Architect should promote the interests of his professional organizations and do his full part of the work of those organizations. He should share in the interchange of technical information and experience with the design professions and the building industry.

I An Architect should inspire the loyal interest of his employees, providing suitable working conditions for them, requiring them to render competent and efficient services, and paying them adequate and just compensation therefor.

J An Architect should endeavor to provide opportunity for the professional development of those who enter the profession, by assisting them to acquire a full understanding of the functions, duties and responsibilities of Architects.

K An Architect should seek opportunities to be of constructive service in civic affairs, and to the best of his ability advance the safety, health and well-being of the community in which he resides.

Finally, every Architect should do his part to forward justice, courtesy and sincerity in his profession. It is incumbent on him in the conduct of his practice to maintain a wholly professional attitude toward those he serves, toward those who assist him in his practice, toward his fellow Architects, and toward the members of other professions, and the practitioners of other arts. He should respect the distinction between professional practice and non-professional enterprise.

II MANDATORY STANDARDS

1 An Architect shall not accept any compensation for his services other than from his client or employer.

2 An Architect shall not render professional services without compensation.

He shall neither offer nor provide preliminary services on a conditional basis prior to definite agreement with the client that if the contemplated project proceeds, he will be employed as its Architect.

The Board of Directors considers that the statement in Rule No. 2 which reads, "An Architect shall not render professional services without compensation," refers particularly to cases in which competition with other architects is present, and that, where professional services are rendered without compensation, or where an architect reduces his usual fee by donation, the requirements of Rule No. 3 shall be observed. (Board, October, 1955.)

3 An Architect shall not knowingly compete with another Architect on a basis of professional charges, nor use donation as a device for obtaining competitive advantage.

Where a stipulated fee or percentage is a condition precedent to consideration of architects, there is no competition among those who offer their services at such a fee, regardless of fee schedules or customs. (Board, September, 1950.)

The purpose of minimum recommended fee schedules is to advise and educate. Observance of these schedules is not and cannot be made mandatory. (Board, May, 1957.)

4 An Architect shall not offer his services in a competition except as provided in The Institute's Competition Code; in international competitions originating in the United States except as approved by The Institute and the International Union of Architects; and in foreign international competitions except as approved by the International Union of Architects.

5 An Architect who has been retained as a professional adviser in a competition shall not accept employment as an Architect for that project.

6 An Architect shall not render architectural services to non-professional enterprises connected with the building industry, except when

a) He does not either directly or indirectly solicit orders for the said enterprises.

b) He is paid by salary, fee or royalty for his architectural services and does not participate in any profits of the aforesaid enterprises which would influence his professional integrity.

7 An Architect shall not engage in building contracting.

8 An Architect shall not knowingly injure falsely or maliciously, the professional reputation, prospects or practice of another Architect.

9 An Architect shall not attempt to supplant another Architect after definite steps have been taken by a client toward the latter's employment.

10 An Architect shall not undertake a commission for which he knows another Architect has been employed until he has notified such other Architect of the fact in writing and has conclusively determined that the original employment has been terminated.

11 An Architect in soliciting work shall not divide fees except with professionals related to building design, and those regularly employed or known to be associated with his office.

12 An Architect shall not use paid advertising nor use self-laudatory, exaggerated, or misleading publicity.

Factual materials, verbal or visual, which dignify the profession or advance public knowledge of the Architect's function in society may be presented through public communication media.

The use of the portrait of an architect in connection with advertising material published by factors of the building industry will not be permitted except under special circumstances which make the use of architects' portraits in an advertisement in the interest of the profession, and then only if previously and expressly approved by The Board of The Institute. (Convention, 1956.) The Secretary and the Executive Director are delegated the power to approve, on behalf of The Board, uses of architects' portraits in advertising, consistent with the above policy. (Board, May, 1956.)

Paid advertising, as referred to in this Rule, is defined as any form of paid announcement or printed material in the public press or circulated indiscriminately by an architect to the public or a segment thereof, intended to aid directly or indirectly in securing actual commissions for that architect, with the following exceptions:

Brochures containing factual information concerning an architect's work; reprints made at the architect's expense, or in his behalf, of items in the public press; and announcements, reports, analyses and descriptive data relating to an architect's work shall not be considered to be paid advertising, provided their direct distribution by the architect is limited to persons with whom the architect has had previous professional or personal contact. (Board, May, 1957.)

When invitations are received by architects to exhibit at conferences and conventions, such as hospitals and medical conventions, and school board meetings, it is best that the chapter pay for the booth space, contact the membership and determine which firms or individuals would care to exhibit, or what method of exhibit would be most appropriate.

When a widely-representative group of architects is invited to share space at a special exhibit, such as a church conference illustrating that particular type of church work, and the payment for the space is only to cover costs, the architects involved can obtain permission to participate in the exhibit, provided that the exhibits and credit lines are in good taste. (Exec. Comm., April, 1957.)

Showing of slides or pictures to a civic or fraternal group, illustrating the works of an architect is perfectly proper, provided that no personal or self-laudatory statements are made. (Exec. Comm., April, 1957.)

The publication of business cards in magazines is in violation of the Standards of Professional Practice. (Board, November, 1949.)

13 An Architect shall not solicit, nor permit others to solicit in his name, advertisements or other support toward the cost of any publication presenting his work.

It was held not to be in violation of The Institute's ethical doctrines for each architect involved to support a State publication of the plans, photographs and data on all recent school jobs. (The cost to each architect was a proportionate cost of the publication.) (Exec. Comm., December, 1950.)

The publication of brochures supported by advertising in illustrating an architect's work is held to be contrary to the Standards of Professional Practice (For example, as in "Architecture and Design"). (Exec. Comm., July, 1949.)

Advertising by individuals is prohibited. Advertising by chapters listing the names of all members or none is perfectly proper.

Advertising by groups representing specific geographical areas within chapters is proper if approved by the chapter, and is clearly to the advantage of the profession. If members' names are included in the advertising, the names of all members within the geographical area involved must be listed, except where omitted at the request of the member; provided that in such instances it be made clear that the listing does not include the names of all chapter members. (Policy Book—1956.)

The propriety of gifts sent by architects to clients and prospective clients is a matter of discretion. The gifts should not be of such a substantial nature as to tend to influence the selection of an architect. (Exec. Comm., April, 1957.)

14 An Architect shall conform to the registration laws governing the practice of architecture in any state in which he practices and he shall observe the standards of practice established by the local Architects' professional body.

15 An Architect shall at no time act in a manner detrimental to the best interests of the profession.

CONCLUSION

Since adherence to the principles herein enumerated is the obligation of every member of The American Institute of Architects, any deviation therefrom or from the broad principles of good practice as set forth in Section I, shall be subject to discipline in proportion to its seriousness.

The Board of Directors of The American Institute of Architects shall have sole power of interpreting these Standards of Professional Practice and its decisions shall be final subject to the provisions of the by-laws.

NOTE: Document No. 330, Standards of Professional Practice, was originally approved and adopted by the seventy-ninth Convention in 1947. It was subsequently revised by the eighty-first Convention in 1949 and the eighty-third Convention in 1951. The eighty-sixth Convention in 1954 adopted the last major revision. In March 1957, The Board of Directors added a new clause at the end of Mandatory Rule No. 4 concerning international competitions; in November 1957, The Board added a further clarification of this same Rule. These are the only differences between the present and the 1954 editions.

Dear Floyd:

Herewith copies of an exchange of correspondence with Mr. Clarence Cullimore, F.A.I.A., and a photocopy of his letter addressed to The Board of Directors.

I would suggest that in view of the fact the agenda has been completed and will be sent out shortly, you bring this matter up as a piece of new business, if you desire to do so.

I am turning the file over to Win Rankin including Miss Gervais' memorandum to me (photocopy enclosed). I think Miss Gervais' memorandum should be called to the attention of The Board in the event the matter is brought before it.

It does not seem to me that Mr. Cullimore has helped the situation by his latest activity referred to in his letter to the Committee on Ethical Standards dated March 21st. Photocopy of this letter is also enclosed.

Looking forward to seeing you in San Francisco, I am

Herewith exchange of correspondence with Clarence Cullimore, F.A.I.A.

You doubtless recall that Clarence Cullimore, Jr.'s membership in the AIA was terminated last July by The Board of Directors as the result of judiciary proceedings.

About a week or so ago we received a letter from Mr. Cullimore enclosing a letter addressed to The Board of Directors requesting the reinstatement of his son. Floyd Rible may bring this matter to the attention of The Board.

As of interest, I enclose a photocopy of the correspondence with Mr. Cullimore and Lloyd Rible on the son's reinstatement, also a photocopy of Miss Gervais' memorandum with which I am in complete accord. This accounts for the tenure of the draft for your signature of which you may disapprove.

Gentlemen:

Two years have elapsed since Whitney Biggar of the Pasadena Chapter preferred charges against C.Cullimore Jr. of the Northern California Chapter for violation of an item or items in our Mandatory Standards.

A year has passed since the Board, upon evidence transcribed, terminated the membership of C.Cullimore Jr. in the American Institute of Architects.

As I was present during the hearing of the charges in Bakersfield I am thoroughly conversant with the case and the testimony on which the Board based its judgement calling for C. Cullimore Jr.'s termination of membership. I believe that this Board action, at this date, has served the purpose for which it was intended - to make it clear to all concerned that the Mandatory Standards are not words alone, but are backed by authority to carry out their stipulations.

Subsequent to Mr. Biggar's charges, C.Cullimore Jr. dissolved his partnership with his non-architect partner, E.J.Kenney and entered into the Architectural firm of CULLIMORE & CULLIMORE ARCHITECTS with which my name is legally associated as a limited partner. As a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects Emeritus, I do not engage actively in the practice of Architecture but do act as advisor on matters pertaining to architectural ethics in this partnership and as a counselor for the firm of CULLIMORE & CULLIMORE on matters of professional conduct, including Mandatory Standards. As a limited partner I do not share in the profit or loss of the firm.

In view of the facts stated in the above paragraphs, will you be kind enough to tell me if it is possible for my son, C.Cullimore Jr., Architect and principal partner in the firm of CULLIMORE & CULLIMORE, ARCHITECTS to petition the Board for reinstatement in the American Institute of Architects, Northern California Chapter? I believe that this chapter holds no ill-will towards him and that the members will welcome his reinstatement.

I shall be registered at the Hotel El Cortez in San Francisco with Mrs. Cullimore during the coming Convention period, and will be happy to appear before the Board if that will facilitate a better understanding of our situation, in order to arrive at the answer to my questions?

It appears that I may have inadvertently overstepped our Ethical Standards by having inserted in the Bakersfield Californian (a daily newspaper serving this area) an announcement, in one issue, of the legal formation of our architectural firm as follows:

Re: Clarence Cullimore, Jr., former member of Institute

With regard to the senior Mr. Cullimore's request for consideration of an application for readmission to membership by Mr. Cullimore, Jr. it seems to me that this involves a little more than a routine request for readmission.

Charges were preferred by Whitney Biggar, A.I.A., in July, 1958.

Final action terminating Mr. Cullimore's corporate membership was taken by The Board of Directors, effective June 19, 1959 which is less than a year ago.

If termination of membership for unprofessional conduct is to have any meaning and any punishment at all, I certainly should think it should be in effect for a longer period.

So far as I know The Board has never established any precedent in such instances, and it would be my suggestion that it adopt a policy or a Rule of The Board, or an amendment of the By-laws setting out the minimum length of time that such termination must run before an application for readmission can be entertained.

There have been in recent years three instances that I recall where former members have applied for and been readmitted, after prior termination for unprofessional conduct, but in all these cases a number of years had elapsed in the interim.

Please let me know what you believe should be done in view of the above.

Dear Mr. Cullimore:

The answer to your letter of March 15th has been delayed by a series of meetings which I have had to attend. I am finally catching up on my correspondence. As you requested, your letter will be brought to the attention of The Board of Directors.

For your information, any architect whose membership in The American Institute of Architects has been terminated as the result of judiciary proceedings may apply for readmission. The application would follow the normal prescribed channels and would, if endorsed by the chapter, be brought to the attention of The Institute's Committee on Membership.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Cullimore:

With further reference to your letter of March 15th and my reply of March 28th in the matter of the possibility of receiving an application for readmission to corporate membership in The Institute from your son:

The opinion of The Board of Directors was requested at its recent meetings in San Francisco, inasmuch as a policy covering the circumstances involved in this situation had not been adopted previously.

The Board has agreed to the policy that an application for readmission to corporate membership in the A.I.A. may be filed by a former member whose membership had been terminated for unprofessional conduct, after a lapse of three years from the date of The Secretary's notice to him of termination. When received, such application must go before The Board of Directors, with the entire file in the matter, for its consideration and action.

According to our records the termination of your son's membership was effective June 19, 1959; therefore, an application for readmission should not be filed by him until after June, 1962.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Purves:

Three years will have elapsed on June 19, 1962 since my Son's membership was terminated by the Board on account of charges preferred by Whitney Biggar of the Pasadena Chapter. Clarence Jr. was then a member of the Northern California Chapter. He was charged with alleged violation of an item or items of the Mandatory Standards .

The Board beside this punitive action agreed, according to your letter of May 11, 1960, copy inclosed, to review their action after the elapse of three years , or after June 1962, if such punitive action seemed to have served its remedial purpose, agreeing that my Son might then apply for reinstatement in the Northern California Chapter if he so desired.

I am confident that Clarence's architectural behavior during these past three years has been exemplary and that he has proven himself to be an architect of integrity and responsibility and worthy of being reinstated to Corporate Membership in the Institute.

Clarence is now employed by the Division of Architecture of the State of California in Sacramento, and has been for two years. During this time he has taken and passed numerous architectural examinations given by the Department, all with flying colors. It would seem that he is particularly fitted for advancing the standards and ethics of the American Institute in this chosen environment, and should be given that privilege.

Naturally, as a Fellow of the Institute since 1944, I would like nothing more than to have my Son reinstated as a Corporate Member. He is even more eager than I to have an opportunity to live up to this responsibility. I have every reason to believe that the members of the Northern California Chapter feel cordial to my son and will welcome his return as a member. It may be recalled that the charges against him were preferred by a Pasadena member and not a Northern California member.

Will you be kind enough, Mr. Purves, how we may proceed to obtain the proper reinstatement forms to fill, looking forward to Clarence Cullimore Jr's reinstatement; the actual procedure to occur subsequent to June 1, 1962, as you stated in your letter of Date May 11, 1960, a copy of which I inclose together with a copy of my letter to you as of March 15, 1960.

Mr. Clarence Cullimore, Sr., F.A.I.A.

Bakersfield, California

Dear Mr. Cullimore:

Upon returning to The Institute after attending meetings of The Board of Directors and the Convention in Dallas, your letter of May 8th was referred to me for attention.

That letter is addressed to Edmund R. Purves, former Executive Director of the A.I.A. He retired as of December 31, 1961 and is no longer affiliated with The Institute; hence, this reference of your inquiry to me.

As Mr. Purves advised you in his letter of May 11, 1960, it will be permissible for your son to apply for readmission to corporate membership--at the expiration of a period of three years from the date of notice to him of termination on June 19, 1959.

As all applications now originate with the local Chapter, Mr. Cullimore should get in touch with Mrs. Ethel G. Smith, Executive Secretary for the Chapter, at 47 Kearny Street. If the Chapter wishes him to fill out an application form again, such form should be secured from her. If the Chapter wishes it can waive the submission of a new application form and accept a letter merely requesting readmission.

In either form, such application or request for readmission should be accompanied by a check payable to The Institute in the amount of $135.00, for the following:

1958 Institute dues and $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1959 dues
owed at time of termination.....	$75.00
Readmission fee.....	10.00
One year's AIA dues in advance.....	50.00
Total.....	$135.00

If there were any dues owed to the Northern California Chapter or California State Organization at the time Mr. Cullimore's membership lapsed, they must be paid in full also. Mrs. Smith can tell him about this.

Mr. Clarence Cullimore, Sr., F.A.I.A. - Page #2 May 24, 1962

When the Chapter receives the application and all necessary fees, it proceeds to handle it in the same manner as for an original applicant, which is required procedure, and then forwards it to The Institute, here, for final action.

Upon receipt of your Son's application at this office, you may rest assured we shall be glad to give it prompt attention.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Cullimore:

We are in receipt of your letter of August 4, 1962 concerning your desire to re-apply for membership in the A.I.A.

It is Chapter policy that applications for re-admittance must be made on the regular form provided by the Institute for corporate membership. We are pleased to enclose the form herewith. Upon receipt of the completed form, it will be forwarded to the Chapter Membership Committee for review and consideration.

Our records indicate that basic dues for 1958 in the amount of $40 and basic dues for 1/2 of 1959 are owing to the Chapter. It will therefore be necessary to accompany your application with a check for $60 made out to the Northern California Chapter, A.I.A. as well as one for $135 required by the Institute, as per Miss Florence Gervais' letter to your father of May 24, 1962. Your check to the Chapter will be held pending receipt of notification of the Institute's action.

Because of the circumstances leading to your termination in 1959, an official presentation of your application will have to be made to our Board of Directors. The Board will be guided by the report of the Membership Committee, but it may be that the Board will request additional data as well as a personal interview.

My dear Secretary:-

Some months ago my son, Clarence Cullimore Jr. Architect, applied for reinstatement in the Northern California Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, inclosing his check for unpaid fees and those in arrears for the Chapter and the National Organization in Washington.

Previously, our Secretary in Washington had written me that the reinstatement could be applied-for, according to a ruling of the Board, subsequent to June 1962. This was complied with.

A favorable action by the Northern California Chapter and the National Organization means much to Clarence Cullimore Jr. Architect and to me. Will you be kind enough to let me know what disposition has been made of the matter, and advise me if there is anything that I may do to help in the matter?

I am a firm believer in our organization and in the interest of the Profession, and feel that every architect who believes the same way, and who knows the advantages in having a Code of Ethics, should be a member of his Professional Association. Because of this belief, I am more than happy to recommend Clarence Cullimore Jr. for reinstatement. I am basically a philosopher and understand that plans and specifications are subject to interpretation as are Codes of Ethics. I also believe that no man should continue to pay a penalty for something that could have been a misunderstanding. (Except by the Grace of God, it could have been me.)

Sincerely,

Clarence Cullimore and C. Cullimore Jr. who recently formed partnership of Cullimore and Cullimore Architects

Announcement has been made of the formation of a partnership between C. Cullimore Jr., Bakersfield architect, and his father, Clarence Cullimore Sr., a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects and a former teacher of architecture in the Bakersfield College, to engage in the practice of architecture under the firm name of Cullimore & Cullimore—Architects.

Both Cullimores are well known in Bakersfield and Kern County, the younger having been graduated from the Bakersfield High School and from the College of Architecture at the University of Southern California. He has been a practicing architect in Bakersfield for the past five years.

The senior Cullimore, listed in the current issue of Who's Who in America, was the recipient of the degree of Bachelor of Science in architecture from the University of California at Berkeley in 1910 and received a Master of Architecture degree from the University of Southern California in 1942.

In 1950 the senior Cullimore was first award winner in the city of Santa Barbara's competition for "The most distinctive example of commercial architecture erected in the Santa Barbara area between the years 1939 to 1949"—the award being given for a motor hotel.

The junior Cullimore has been responsible for a number of outstanding modern buildings that have made use of the latest advances in economical construction in this community and elsewhere.

Under his own state certification Cullimore has designed and supervised the construction of a number of architectural works that include Buttonwillow Union School auditorium, remodeling of Atascadero High School, the new 400-student Santa Rosa Elementary School at Atascadero, San Mateo School District administration building, the Heritage Park Field House, several churches, various business and professional buildings in Bakersfield, including Weatherby's new store, Paola's Bowling Alley and Restaurant and portions of the Hillcrest and College Center shopping centers.

Cullimore Jr. resides with his wife, Mike, and his two children Clarence III and Michael Earl at 829 Oleander Ave. He says he is pleased to be a part of the progress of Bakersfield, his city of birth, and sees a bright future for those who contribute to its upbuilding. Dear Mrs. Rasmussen:

As you are aware, when an application for corporate membership in The AIA is received where the applicant requests to be assigned to a chapter other than that in which he maintains his legal residence and principal place of business, the applicant may be assigned to the Chapter of his choice, provided that the Chapter having jurisdiction gives its consent.

From enclosed copy of application for readmission to membership of Clarence Cullimore, Jr., 2131 Marshall Way, Sacramento 18, California, you will note Mr. Cullimore requests assignment to the Northern California Chapter whereas his application indicates both his legal residence and principal place of business are in the territory of the Central Valley Chapter.

Mr. Cullimore has been favorably recommended for re-election by the Northern California Chapter and the matter is now referred to the Central Valley Chapter for consideration.

Your early advice will enable us to proceed with further action on Mr. Cullimore's application without delay.

Dear Joyce:

We are glad to have yours of May 28th and its official advice that Clarence Cullimore, Jr.'s assignment to the Northern California Chapter is approved by the Central Valley Chapter.

Your letter of May 6th sending this advice previously must have gone astray. Mrs. Marx and I both were at the Convention in Miami Beach at the time it would have been due to arrive, and that may account for its loss in transit to my desk, although Mr. Dominick, who handled our correspondence during the staff's absence, is most careful and meticulous. Just one of those things.

It is most kind of you to write as you did concerning my Honorary Membership. I am very proud of that and was taken by surprise, as I knew nothing about it until The Board meeting at Miami Beach.

As you surmise, I am looking forward with keen anticipation to my retirement days and to undertaking an entirely new way of life. So many things to do in this world - and so little time!

Believe me, if I ever do get to California again, I shall make it a point to look up all of you gals on the West Coast. I have such fond memories of our past meetings I would love to repeat.

Again many thanks,

Cordially,

Dear Mr. Cullimore:

The Board of Directors of The American Institute of Architects takes pleasure in informing you that it has acted favorably on your application for readmission and welcomes you again to membership in The Institute.

You are assigned to the Northern California Chapter and the California Council of The AIA, effective June 17, 1963 and will remain assigned to these component organizations of The AIA until your membership terminates; or unless you wish to have your assignment transferred elsewhere should the opportunity arise.

I sincerely hope that you will take an active and interested part in your Chapter activities. The Chapter is the cornerstone of The Institute's strength where the policies which advance our profession are developed. Members who are active in Chapter affairs gain the most from AIA as professional men and provide the leadership which AIA needs to meet the challenges and opportunities which the future holds for architecture.

I want you to know that The Secretary's Office is at your service to the fullest extent of its powers.

By direction of The Secretary.

Sincerely yours,

I am requesting herewith transfer from the Central Valley Chapter of the American Institute of Architects to the Sierra Valley Chapter in the Stockton Area.

Since I am now employed by the City of Stockton as Director of Building Safety, I find it impossible to be involved and to maintain an active membership in Sacramento.

If my request is granted, please forward the results of your action to Neal Lawson, President of the Sierra Valley Chapter at 1024 West Robinhood Drive, Stockton, California 95207. I am sending a copy of this request to national headquarters at the Octagon.

It has been a pleasure to be a member of the Central Valley Chapter and I hope that my proximity will maintain the many friendships I have enjoyed.

Re: Chapter Members

Thanks for going over the list. A further check reveals:

Clarence Cullimore - We do not have on file any request from him to transfer him back into your Chapter. However, on the basis of your memo and his note to you, we'll transfer him when we receive the approval of the Sierra Valley Chapter--see enclosed.

George Haight and Lawrence Wenell - Transfer requests are on file, but final action has not been taken, pending verification of their good standing in Sierra Valley.

Richard Zeiner - On the basis of your statement that he is on the Chapter's rolls, we assume your Chapter has acted favorably and, on that basis, we're completing the transfer as per the enclosure. Up until now, the request has been on file pending your approval.

V. Galbraith:- He's a Member Emeritus assigned to your Chapter, as far as we can see. Since he doesn't have to pay dues, I don't think it's of major importance that you're not carrying him.

J. A. Gemmel - Final action on his resignation was taken only recently - after the printout was prepared. (See our date of notice.)
