ARCHITECTS' ROSTER QUESTIONNAIRE

TO EVERY ARCHITECT IN THE UNITED STATES AND ITS POSSESSIONS:

The Architects' Roster is maintained by The American Institute of Architects as a service to the profession as a whole and to agencies of the United States Government. Every registered architect, whether or not a member of The Institute, is eligible for inclusion in the Roster. The Institute maintains custody of the Roster, keeps it up to date and in good order for use. The Roster is available to any representative of the Government and to representatives of foreign governments in Washington. Reference may be made to The Architects' Roster in negotiations with government agencies and other interested parties. Experience with the Roster since its establishment in 1946 has shown its usefulness. Growing out of an earlier Register of architects qualified for public works, The Roster provides at The Octagon an accurate, current record of the qualifications and achievements of members of the profession. It allows a positive and helpful response to requests for factual information on architects, and in that way constitutes a service to the profession.

The American Institute of Architects assumes no responsibility for the accuracy of statements made in this Questionnaire. The obligation to maintain this record as a current description of an architectural firm rests with the firm, and supplementary record forms are available for this purpose.

PARTNERSHIPS SHOULD MAKE A JOINT RETURN ONLY.

Original and one copy to be mailed to THE ARCHITECTS' ROSTER, The American Institute of Architects, 1735 New York Avenue, N. W., Washington 6, D. C. One copy to be retained by the author.

THE firm of Friedman, Alschuler & Sincere, with certain changes in name, has been in existence since 1907. One of the larger architectural and engineering firms in the country, it has designed and supervised the construction of more than two thousand buildings with a value in excess of $300 million. National in scope, the organization has served clients in twenty-four states and the District of Columbia.

The firm's largest commission was as engineer-architect of the Gary Armor Plate Plant, a $25 million structure which was completed four months ahead of schedule and at a cost below the estimates. The experience of the firm has been primarily on major structures, and it has established an enviable reputation for conscientious service on such structures and for executing work on schedule.

The organization is exceptional in the Chicago area in that it has technical facilities for carrying out, by its own specialists, all of the complex problems of architecture. Unlike many architectural offices which devote themselves only to the architectural phase of buildings and rely upon outside sources for mechanical, structural, electrical, ventilating and lighting engineering, the Friedman, Alschuler & Sincere office is self-contained and has all of these specialists within its ranks. This, it has been found, makes for more controlled, speedy, and economical solutions of building problems, and is very helpful in integrating plans and specifications, with a resulting efficiency and economy of construction.

The offices of Friedman, Alschuler & Sincere, at 223 West Jackson Boulevard, occupy 9,000 square feet of space, including the drafting and engineering research rooms. An unusual feature of the executive offices and conference rooms is the incorporation of various building materials into walls, floors, windows, and doors, for clients' direct reference when discussing details of their proposed building.

In addition to architectural and engineering services for industrial, commercial, public, and institutional structures, the firm is prepared to perform special allied services such as industrial layouts, interior furnishings and treatment, air conditioning, and lighting. In July 1948, Ernest A. Grunsfeld, housing and planning architectural expert, joined the organization as an associate consultant on housing design and other special problems.

The organization, which ranges in personnel from 90 to 115 at the present writing, is comprised as follows:

Licensed Architects	8
Licensed Professional Engineers	8
Licensed Structural Engineers	3
Licensed Mechanical Engineers	9
Licensed Electrical Engineers	4
Specification Writers	6
Architectural and Engineering Draftsmen	39
Office Personnel	14
Construction Superintendents	10
