Dear Carl,

At the March Executive Committee Meeting, your membership was given consideration by the Executive Committee again, and action was taken by that body to waive your 1974 dues and assessments. We are, by this letter, asking the Institute to make the waiver of National dues retroactive also. However, since you were terminated by the National body in August, you may have to pay readmission fees in line with the National Bylaws.

The action by the Executive Committee pertains only to 1974. You will still be obligated to pay 1975 dues to keep your membership active.

I am enclosing Emeritus forms which you may or may not feel qualified for at this point. If you feel qualified, and if your application is approved by the Executive Committee, and the National A.I.A., you would retain membership, plus all rights and privileges without the dues obligation.

As I have indicated to you on the phone, hopefully something can be worked out so that you can retain your good standing which has been ongoing since 1946.

Please let me know as to the direction you would like to take at this time.

With best wishes.

Dear Bob:

The following has been discussed with Maureen Marx. She suggested I put it in writing.

I hope you can help me with this membership problem. It's a case of the member being caught up in the system and the system not being sensitive to the particular situation because actual details were not known.

Mr. Carl Lloyd Aimes was terminated in 1974 for non-payment of dues after close to forty years as an Associate members of the Wisconsin Component and a Corporate member of the Institute. (He was approved as a Corporate member in 1946.)

At the time of Carl's termination he was fighting a financial situation brought about by a lingering illness of his wife who did finally pass away. Although we did not know all of the circumstances at that time, he did ask for help in the way of a waiver locally which was given. At the same time he was asked about Emeritus but declined for fear he would not be able to practice and support the medical help his wife needed at the time. Now that our Executive Committee is more familiar with the situation we have voted to reinstate Carl and waive all other past debts and at the same time waive the fifteen year requirement for Emeritus if by his termination that was interrupted. In addition we recommend to you and the Institute that Carl Lloyd Aimes be reinstated and elected to Emeritus membership.

Carl is very dedicated to the AIA and has over the years served in many capacities in the local Chapter and State organization. The loss of his membership was deep felt. We are hopeful that some consideration can be given to Carl and if readmission fees are necessary, please let me know. For the record, I will ask Carl to sign an Emeritus application which he now is willing to do. Your help in settling this matter will be appreciated.

Dear Alan:

Your letter dated March 28 regarding Carl L. Ames was referred to Secretary Lawrence.

He indicated that he would be amenable to re-electing Mr. Ames to the emeritus category and waive his past AIA dues in arrears, subject to payment of the $20 reinstatement fee and provided that he is eligible for Membership Emeritus under the present rules. Specifically, he would have to be over 70, or over 60 and retired from the profession, or incapacitated.

If eligible, please ask him to complete the application and send it to me with his $20 check.

Sincerely,
