A member, by virtue of his membership in The Institute, becomes a member of the chapter of The Institute within the territory of which he resides or has his place of business, as he elects, but he pays an admission fee to The Institute only. The admission fee to membership in The Institute normally is twenty-five dollars. (For 1936 this fee was reduced to five dollars.)

A member pays annual dues both to The Institute and to the chapter. The annual dues to The Institute normally are twenty-five dollars (for 1936 Institute dues were reduced to twenty dollars) and those to the chapter are fixed in its by-laws.

Normally the period between the time of filing an application and the time it is acted on by The Board of The Institute is four months. The period will be longer if the application must be returned to the applicant for corrections or if additional exhibits of the applicant's work are required by The Board of Examiners.

If an application is denied, the amount prepaid by the applicant for annual dues and for admission fee, less five dollars for examination fee, will be returned to him.

An applicant whose application has been denied without prejudice may reapply for admission to membership a year or more after the date of The Secretary's notice to him of his non-admission.

I, the undersigned, do hereby apply for corporate membership in The American Institute of Architects.

Dear Mr. Walters:

The Secretary is happy to inform you that your application for membership in The Institute was acted on favorably by The Board of Directors and that you were admitted to corporate membership in The Institute and assigned to membership in the Cleveland Chapter, effective on February 6, 1940. You will be a member of that chapter, or of some other chapter if you later transfer thereto, until your membership in The Institute terminates.

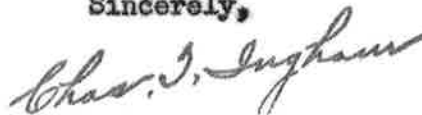

Your certificate of membership, duly executed by the officers of The Institute, will be sent in due course.

The Board of Directors welcomes you to membership in The Institute and The Secretary's office is at your service to the extent of its powers.

The policies and activities of The Institute are developed largely from problems arising within the chapters. By taking an active part in your chapter affairs you will contribute to the advancement of the objects of The Institute and will increase the benefits to be derived from Institute membership.

We bespeak your active cooperation.

Sincerely,

Secretary.

George C. Walters, Leader in Architectural Work, Dies

George C. Walters, Cleveland architect, died yesterday in his home, 12530 Lake Avenue, Lakewood, at the age of 64.

Born in London, England, he was educated at Christ Church

School and Brighton Technical College, both in Brighton, England. He served in the Royal Engineers of the British Army from 1914 to 1917 and was decorated for service in France.

Coming to the United States in 1919, he became a draftsman in the office of Howell & Thomas, Cleveland architects. He was chief draftsman in the office of Philip L. Small from 1920 to 1928 and a member of the firm from 1928 to 1932.

Planning YM Project

Since 1933 he practiced architecture under his own name, designing many of the homes in the western suburbs of Cleveland as well as churches and institutional buildings.

At the time of his death he was engaged in one of a long series of major improvements at the Central YMCA building.

Mr. Walters' professional career included a period in 1935 and 1936 as supervising architect for the Home Owners Loan Corp. and a year during World War II in architectural work on Corps of Engineers projects in Kentucky.

He returned to Cleveland to become a member of the Metropolitan Architects firm, designers of the Brooklyn Acres housing development for the Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Specialist in Specifications

He was a specialist in specification writing and was associated for this purpose with the firm of Weinberg & Teare, with which he shared offices in the Citizens Building.

A member of the American Institute of Architects, Mr. Walters was interested in furthering architectural education and taught drawing at John Huntington Polytechnic Institute a number of years.

A resident of Rocky River for nearly 30 years until last fall, he served a term in the '30s on its board of zoning ap-

A resident of Rocky River for nearly 30 years until last fall, he served a term in the '30s on its board of zoning appeals. He was a member of Gaston G. Allen Masonic Lodge and the Lakewood Elks Lodge.

Fishing Enthusiast

He was an enthusiastic camper and fisherman with Canada as his favorite camping region. He also was interested in photography and classical music.

Mr. Walters is survived by his wife, Hedy, whom he married in 1953.

Friends may call at the Saxton funeral home, 13215 Detroit Avenue, Lakewood, from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow. Memorial services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the chapel of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral. The family suggests contributions to the Heart Fund.
